

8 Painters To Watch in 2024, According to Insiders

December 26, 2023

In the ever-evolving world of painting, there is a new wave of talent. We asked eight art world experts—curators, directors, collectors—to tell us what individuals they think are poised to be among the class of 2024, or on the brink of breakthrough success.

George Rouy

“My standout artist for 2024 is U.K. artist George Rouy, after his incredible show ‘Body Suit’ at Hannah Barry Gallery in Peckham this summer. His abstracted painting of the human form is both haunting and entirely captivating, encompassing the body in an energized sequence that feels immediate and visceral.

Watch out for his collaborative performance-installation with choreographer Sharon Eyal at the ICA London in December 2024. Based between London and Kent, Rouy will feature in a group exhibition, “Present Tense,” at Hauser & Wirth Somerset from January through April 2024. His work is already represented in major collections including ICA, Miami, and Fondation Cartier, Paris.”

—Neil Wenman, Global Creative Director & Partner,
Hauser & Wirth